TRIBUTES TO HIS MEMORY.

Lackawanna Bar Association Takes Action on the Death of Ex-Judge Henry M.
Seely.

In spite of the severe snow storm and a rush of court business a large number of members of the Lackawanna County Bar association met yesterday morning to take action upon the death of ex-Judge Henry M. Seely, of Honesdale, Wayne county, who less than a year ago had established a law office in this city. Ex-Judge Alfred Hand, president of the association, presided over the meeting, which convened at 11:29 o'clock in the main court room. City Solicitor James H. Torrey was chosen secretary.

Judge R. W. Archbald, ex-Judge P. P.
Smith and Cornelius Comegys were appointed a committee on resolutions and requested to report forthwith, but later in the meeting Mr. Comegys reported that the committee desired more extended time and power to present the resolutions to the family of Judge Seely and the newspapers. The request was favorably received and today the resolutions will be made public.

Brief addresses eulogistic of the high moral character, sympathetic nature, sincerity and worth of Judge Seely were made by President Hand, Judge Archbald, City Solicitor Torrey, ex-Judge Smith, Colonel F. L. Hitchcock and Judge Purdy, of Wayne county. In a conversational way President Hand,

It was deemed unnecessary to appoint a committee to represent the bar association formally at the funeral, which will be held at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon in Honesdale, from the fact that many members of the bar had signified their purpose of attending.
Among those are: Judge Archbald, E.
N. Willard, ex-Judges Hand and Smith, City Solicitor Torrey, Judge Gunster, Colonel F. L. Hitchcock, ex-Judge W. H.
Jessup and W. W. Watson.

At noon the meeting adjourned.

MARRIED AT NOON.

Miss Florence Edgar Weds Sylvester Tilson, of Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Florence Edgar, daughter of Attorney S. W. Edgar, of Capouse avenue, was married at noon yesterday to Sylvester Tilson, of Rochester. The ceremony was performed in Elm Park church by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. H.
Pearce, and was strictly informal.

Professor George N. Rockwell played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the prospective bride and groom, preceded by Mark K. Edgar and Ezra H.
Connell, the ushers, approached the altar. There were no bridesmaids.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held in the church parlors and at an early hour in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Tilson left on the Lackawanna road for a wedding tour. They will reside in Rochester, where the groom is associated with the Vogt Cloak and Lace company.

The bride is considered one of Scranton's most beautiful girls, and has a personal grace and charm which has won for her a large circle of intimate friends.

ADVOCATES OF PROPRIETY

Councils Quibble for an Hour and Then Agree Unanimously.

MR. BATTLE AROSE TO REMARK

Mr. McLean Tries to Assist—Mr. Sweeney Stirs Things Up a Bit and Finally Bridge Contracts are Awarded After a Protracted Session.

Contracts for building the ironwork of the two new bridges were awarded last night by a joint session of councils. While the report of the streets and bridges committee in the matter of awards was adopted unanimously, there was occasioned a great deal of quibbling and peanut filling, but about the middle of the efforts of a few common councilmen.

After President Chittenden of select council had, on motion of Mr. Sanderson, been chosen to preside over the joint session the report of the streets and bridges committee was read. It recommended that the streets be bridged be laid with asphalt and that the contract on the Linden Street bridge be awarded to the Edge Moor bridge company of Wilmington for $72,000, and that the Spruce Street bridge contract be awarded to the Phenix Bridge company of Phenixville for $87,345.

Matter of Right of Way.

Before the vote was polled on the Linden Street bridge award, Mr. Clemons expressed a doubt whether the city had settled the right of way with all property owners along the western approach of the Linden Street bridge. City Engineer Phillips informed the meeting that the city collector was authorizing the statement that only in the case of the Swetland estate was there any unsigned papers, and that in this instance the price of the land had been agreed upon.

Mr. Battle, at this point, stated that there was no section in the original specifications regarding asphalt and that if such a pavement was contracted for there should be no reflection cast for not making the discrepancy known.

The chair (erely remarked that the gentleman preceding Mr. Battle had asked about quite another matter and suggested that Mr. Battle was out of order, whereupon the latter seated himself, and Mr. McLean, of the Seventh, "offered as an amendment that the specifications be read." Mr. McLean was declared out of order and the clerk instructed to call the vote.

Mr. Sweeney Explained.

When Mr. Sweeney's name was reached he voted affirmatively, after explaining that he had opposed an asphalt flooring in committee because the specifications made no provision for such flooring. Members Battle and Mc-Lean also voted "yes," and the committee's report was unanimously adopted.

Before the resolution awarding the Spruce Street bridge contract was read, Mr. Battle's motion, seconded by Mr.
McLean, that the specifications be read was carried by vote of 17 to 13. The reading occupied nearly a half hour, and when the resolution was finally adopted unanimously, one of the most unpleasant protracted sessions of councils ever held adjourned. One hour was consumed in unanimously agreeing upon a report of council.

IT BROKE UP IN A ROW.

Members of the Common Council Could Not Agree.

A row of a vocal character brought last night's meeting to a premature and abrupt and confused adjournment.
Following the joint session, the common branch convened in regular session. The members, with a few exceptions, had been worked up to a combative pitch by the oratorical tactics of Members Battle and Mc-Lean, et al., during the joint session, and during the meeting of the common branch following, Mr. Moir left the chamber in disgust and was followed by other Republican members.

The incidents leading up to such a condition were somewhat exciting and served as a reminder of the swaddling epoch of the city when a councilman's fracas was not an uncommon occurrence. In the absence of President Nealis, Mr. Schadt was selected to occupy the chair.

Fortwith Was Omitted.

MUSIC began to be felt and heard in the air when Mr. Battle moved that the ordinance providing for the annexation of Minooka be referred to the printing committee with instructions to report forthwith. The chair precipitated a war of words by putting the motion, which was carried, without allusion to "fortwith." Mr. Sweeney then reminded the chair of his unintentional error, and the remark brought from Mr. Robathan a protest against "fort-with" being included in the motion.

Mr. Battle joined in the argument and upon that gentleman's statement that he had included "fortwith" in his motion, the objections of Mr. Robathan were withdrawn.

But that was only the mild crescendo which led up to the real fortissimo of the evening. After the committee had retired the chair instructed the meeting to go into the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh orders of business in turn.

While in the seventh order the committee filed into the chamber and Mr.
Sweeney interrupted the reading of an ordinance to ask that the report of the committee be received at once.

Moir Raises a Point.

Mr. Moir remarked that only in the third order of business could committee reports be received and that, inasmuch as the chair had erred in considering the report in the seventh order, the request of Mr. Sweeney was out of order. Mr. Robathan echoed the opposition assumed by Mr. Moir.

The two Republican members were being constantly interrupted and at one time six members were on the floor.
Mr. Norton, the by-sequences chairman of the printing committee, was clamoring for permission to present the report on the printing of the Minooka ordinance; Mr. Grier was demanding that Mr. Norton be recognized; Mr. Sweeney was trying to make himself heard and explain his understanding of parliamentary law; Mr. Battle was saying things in a loud voice about "fort-with," and Mr. Moir and Mr. Robathan were rising to points of order or asking the chair to rule on the question which had occasioned the disorder.

After the excitement had prevailed for several minutes and was at its height, Mr. Schadt ruled that the report of the committee should be received, although no motion had been made that the session go into the third order of business.

"I'll not stand by any such humbug," said Mr. Moir, who accompanied the remark by picking up his coat and hat and passing from the chamber.
Mr. Robathan followed suit, and Mr.
Godfrey and Mr. Williams, each a Republican, arose with the intention of departing.

Fear of losing a quorum and the desire of grasping the last straw brought Mr. Battle to his feet. Before all the Republican members could leave the room he moved that the meeting adjourn until this evening. The motion prevailed through the votes of the Democratic members.

EXERCISES FOR CHILDREN.

Held in the Lecture Room of Penn Avenue Church.

Despite the amount of snow on the streets a sufficient number of children attended the exercises of the Penn Avenue Baptist Sunday school last night to over-crowd the large lecture room.

At 7 o'clock a service of song—"The Best Gift"—was rendered in the church when Rev. Warren G. Partridge and Superintendent Luther Keller made suitable addresses. The proceedings opened with the chorus, "Best of All," after which E. S. Williams engaged in prayer. Recitations were then delivered by Florence Drew, "December," Harry Rose, "Just for Christmas," Alice Corwin, "A Week After Christmas," and Edith Murphy, "Christmas Joy Bells." A quartette consisting of Misses Annie and Grace Rose and Charles and Edwin Whittemore gave a splendid rendition of "Christmas Bells." Mrs. Ellen Gales gave a humorous reading entitled, "Christmas Dinner," which depicted the troubles of a Mrs.
Ruggles in preparing her children for their first "dinner out." Miss Bessie Holden gave a fine recitation of "I Want to Have my Daddy" being descriptive of a little child who sold her doll to relieve a poor family on Christmas day.

At the end of the service the company adjourned to the lecture room, where refreshments were served and a social meeting was enjoyed by the large gathering. During the social a pleasing incident occurred in the presentation of a fine sword by the Boy's brigade to Captain Fred M. Koehler as a Christmas gift. The pastor made the formal presentation, and in a felicitous speech referred to the splendid services of Mr.
Koehler in connection with the brigade and thanked him for the successful interest he had taken in the boys of the church. Mr. Koehler suitably responded.

In leaving the room the children received gifts of candy etc. The primary department met in the afternoon when Superintendent Keller presided over a very enjoyable meeting and distributed a large number of gifts.

CHILDREN MADE HAPPY.

Christmas Tree Exercises of the Scranton Liederkrantz Last Night.

Over 200 children assembled in the Music Hall last evening at the invitation of the Scranton Liederkrantz to participate in the Christmas festivities of the society. The hall was decorated in a handsome manner, large fes-teons of evergreens, studded with electric lights, being suspended from the ceiling. The walls also were covered with wreaths, and above the stage a large electric-light motto of changing colors with the words, "A Merry Christmas," had been arranged. A splendid programme of literary and vocal selections was given by the members of the society.

Each little girl was presented with a cup and saucer, and the boys with pocket-books. All the visitors received a box of candy. The arrangements were made by a committee consisting of Mrs.
J. F. Widmayer, president; Mrs. Reichert, Miss Frech, Mrs. Schellhaus, Mrs.
A. Conrad, George Wahl, F. J. Widmayer, F. Leuther, Theodore Pettach, and Powell Keller.

SHOE FACTORY COMING.

It Will Give Employment to One Hundred Persons, It Is Said.

Arrangements are being satisfactorily made by which it is expected that a shoe factory will very soon be established in the city. This will be the only shoe factory in Scranton, and will employ 100 men, and machinery of the value of $25,000.

Samples of the work now being produced by the makers of the shoe are being shown here, and will be on hand in a few days, and the board of trade is prepared to receive offers from persons willing to erect or lease a suitable building for the purpose of the factory.

Watch Night Services.
A watchnight service will be held at Elm Park church on Monday night under the auspices of the Epworth league.
The service will commence at 8 o'clock, when a service of song will be given until 10 p. m. and will be followed by other meetings, concluding with a consecration service conducted by Rev. W. H. Pearce.

WILEY TRIED FOR PERJURY

Case Is an Outgrowth of the Sabbath Observance Crusade.

HOW THE ACCUSED OFFENDED

He Saw Soda Water Drank in Ryan's Drug Store and Supposed It Was Paid for—Proprietor Denies That Such Was the Case.

Assistant Secretary Charles A. Willey, of the Young Men's Christian association, of this city, was put on trial in court before Judge Sitter yesterday, charged with perjury. Druggist D. S.
Ryan, of Penn avenue, was the prosecutor. Mr. Wiley was represented in court by City Solicitor James H. Torrey and Attorney W. J. Hanan. Attorneys J. Elliot Rose and T. P. Hoban conducted the prosecution.

The case is an outgrowth of the Sunday crusade brought by Rev. F. A.
Dony last summer against the Sunday dealers of this city. On Sunday, May 6, Secretary Wiley stood for a few minutes at Spruce street and Penn avenue. He saw some persons whom he did not know enter Ryan's drug store, walk up to the soda fountain and the clerk waited upon them, giving them a glass each of soda for which he saw three persons enter Mr.
Ryan's drug store, drink soda, and pay for the same in coin. The clerk waited upon them and gave some change back to one of the persons who drank the soda. On this testimony Mr. Ryan alleged that Secretary Wiley perjured himself.

He was testifying on the stand yesterday and he swore that on Sunday, May 6, at the same time that Secretary Wiley was standing on the corner, Frank Callahan and his three sisters entered the drug store and requested to be waited on at the soda fountain. Druggist Ryan swore that he drew four glasses of soda, and noticed that Wiley was watching him. Mr.
Callahan took money out of his pocket and offered to pay for the soda, but Mr. Ryan told him not to mind, that he was treating. Mr. Callahan did not pay for the soda and these were the people Secretary Wiley swore that he saw. Secretary Wiley said that he did not see him hanging around the place again that day.

Mr. Callahan was put upon the stand and he corroborated Druggist Ryan regarding his refusal to take pay for the soda. Mr. Callahan said the time was about 10 o'clock, and as he was he could not recall was about 10 o'clock in the morning. City Solicitor Torrey moved to take the case out of the jury's hands on the plea that the prosecution had failed to identify the four people whom Druggist Ryan alleges were the ones that Secretary Wiley saw drinking the soda, as the ones whom the defendant swore he saw. And Mr. Ryan swore that these people entered the store at 10 o'clock, when Mr. Wiley swore before Alderman Post that it was noon, on that account they could not be the same persons. Another reason that if it had been Secretary Wiley who was in the store with his sisters and he attempted to pay for the soda drank, the motion of putting his hand in his pocket to pay for the soda would be sufficient inference to warrant Secretary Wiley in swearing that the soda was not paid for. Court refused to quash the indictment and the defense opened their case.

Story Told by Mr. Wiley.

Mr. Wiley was the first witness and he testified that he inferred from the action of the young man who was about to pay for the soda that he paid for it. He was not sure that his testimony before Alderman Post was his own, but he swore that he saw the defendant enter the store with his sisters
be sufficient inference to warrant Secretary Wiley in swearing that the soda
their case.
